How to?

If you lended here, then chances are that you already know what you are loking for.
I can and do provide custom MQL programming per your requests.

If by any chance you do not know what FOREX, Metatrader and MQL is, then I advise you first to browse through related resources in my links section. Will it cost you?

Yes, but not that much. Basic rate is $30 USD per development hour. Making simple EA or indicator may take 2-3 hours.
The final price should be negotiated, as it depends on complexity of work.

What's the process?

0. You send me (beluck@gmail.com) brief or full description of what has to be done (trading system rules or indicator formulae).

1. I quote the price and request missing details.

2. You pay me in full (escrow service available through Getafreelancer) and I make it.

3. I send you the code for testing.

4. In case of any disagreements with your description I make fixes and step 3 repeats.

5. You may request up to 2 small additional modifications for free.

Confidentiality:

All information sent to me and the results of my work are kept confidential and are not shared or redistributed to any third-party (NDA available upon request).